Introducing: The All-States Individual Tax Guide by The Income Tax School

Charles E. McCabe, CEO of Richmond, VA-based The Income Tax School, Inc. (ITS), announced the introduction of a unique All-States Individual Income Tax Guide for students of the ITS Comprehensive Federal Income Tax Course in Individual Form 1040 Income Tax Preparation.

“Students of the ITS Comprehensive Course covering Federal Form 1040 income tax return preparation will now be provided with an All-States Tax Guide to help them not only prepare and learn individual tax preparation for their state, but also for any other state that has an income tax,” said McCabe. “All comparable courses that I am aware of, other than California and Oregon qualifying courses, address only Federal tax return preparation.”

Sheila Clark, Director of The Income Tax School, said, “This guide provides a summary of the key differences from federal for every state with an income tax, along with links to each states’ complete income tax instructions, to make it easier for our students to prepare optional state returns for the federal tax return problems in our course.

The All-States Guide is being provided online to all current and future students of the ITS Comprehensive Tax Course at no additional charge. The Guide includes all of the 44 states and New York City with an income tax (Including the District of Columbia) except California and Oregon, as ITS provides special courses to meet tax preparer licensing requirements in those two states.

A complete description of the ITS Comprehensive Income Tax Course with the All-States Guide is available in the “Learn” section of the ITS website: <http://www.TheIncomeTaxSchool.com>
