AerSale, Inc. Appoints Paul Cummiskey as Chief Legal Officer

For Immediate Release:

Coral Gables, FL – November 18, 2013 AerSale, Inc. announced today that Paul Cummiskey has been appointed its Chief Legal Officer. This position will support AerSale's rapidly expanding global operations.

Cummiskey brings to the company over 25 years of legal and operational experience in a wide range of aviation finance and capital markets transactions, as well as in the areas of compliance, corporate governance, policy, HR, and process improvement. After starting in a New York commercial real estate law firm, Cummiskey joined aviation's GPA Group in 1987, later moving to GE Capital Aviation Services as it formed in 1993. Between the two companies, Cummiskey succeeded in roles involving all types of aviation transactions and issues, spanning over 35 countries globally, while acquiring important GE leadership, process, and operational training and experience along the way.

"By adding Paul's broad aviation experience and training to our team, we will facilitate AerSale's continued growth and development as a world-class leader in our field," commented Nicolas Finazzo, Chief Executive Officer of the Company. "We welcome Paul and look forward to his contributions as part of AerSale's senior management team."

Cummiskey graduated from Brown University with an A.B. Degree in International Relations and also holds a J.D. degree from DePaul University College of Law.
