Described as 'the lazy man's way to trade, Forex Strategy Master, a product that claims to be great not only for those who're new to trading Forex, but also serves as a wonderful method for those who're already familiar with Forex, has caught the attention of ForexVestor.com's Stan Stevenson, prompting an investigative review.

"Based on the real needs, struggles and frustrations that every day traders come across, Forex Strategy Master is all about making profits. A flexible system that is fully customizable to work with your own style, the program has many different variations, so that you can tweak it to fit perfectly with your own method of trading," reports Stevenson. "You get 24/7 advice and support via email, as well as the opportunity to actually watch Russ trade live. Forex Strategy Master also does away with much of the interpretation that you need to do on an individual basis – leading to quick, easy trades with the highest chance of bringing you in a profit."

Provided in a 6 DVD series, Forex Strategy Master covers the basics of Forex trading, technical analysis, and includes the difference components that define the way to profitable trade, live trade where all the trading types are covered by Russ, and webinars that ensure every detail has been covered and understood. There is an in-depth guide in how to trade in 4 ways: 'Power Trades,' 'Quick Trades,' 'Flow Trades,' and 'Lazy Trades', and multiple variations on each of these. Users also get a trading manual that serves as their quick reference guide when trading, 6 simple 'cheat sheets,' the Marksman Trade Alert system, and 24/7 trading service and support supplied in The Tactical Trading Center.

"Truly easy to follow, Forex Strategy Master takes away many of the complications that make a lot of people fail. It places trades that have the very best chance of making you the profit you deserve. If you have a full time job, then this is an ideal system to use, which means that you still have enough time to concentrate on your Forex trades, while carrying on with your 9-5 in the meantime," says Stevenson. "Fully customizable, Forex Strategy Master works on any time frame, it provides you with an 85% win rate, and filters out trades to leave you with only those with the highest probability of profit. It also lowers the risk of trading to the lowest point possible."

"If you've been going a while, but never seem to make those massive profits that you know are possible, then Forex Strategy Master could well be the system that sees your fortunes begin to grow. Russ certainly has the knowhow and experience necessary to create such a product. It's also the perfect way to cut down the amount of time you spend trading Forex, while ramping up the profits you see rolling in. Forex Strategy Master is a unique and innovative method of trading Forex, and one that honestly could see your fortune changing for the better."
