

The Guaranteed Girlfriend Program: Review Examining Adam Gilad's Coaching Program Released

SUMMARY: PUABooks.net releases a review of The Guaranteed Girlfriend Program a newly launched 12-week, personalized coaching program led by Adam Gilad which promises to help men effortlessly attract amazing women and turn them into devoted, loving girlfriends.

The Guaranteed Girlfriend Program, which promises to help single men attract fun, gorgeous, and all-around amazing girlfriends has just been released to the public creating a frenzy of excitement throughout the men's dating advice community. The buzz surrounding the program's launch has caught the attention of PUABooks.net's Clint Johnson, prompting an investigative review.

"While 'playing the field' and remaining a bachelor long term may appeal to some, I'd venture that if given the chance, the vast majority of unmarried men would actually prefer to meet a quality 'girlfriend material' woman to enjoy a relationship with," says Johnson. "Woefully however, finding such a woman, attracting her, and getting into a relationship with her can be tricky, and there just isn't a lot of good information for out there for guys ON this subject. So, when we found out about Adam Gilad's new Guaranteed Girlfriend Program we were eager to review it for our website visitors."

The Guaranteed Girlfriend Program includes a 12 week video training curriculum, weekly coaching calls with Gilad and his top coaches, recordings and transcripts, as well as additional bonus material. The course was designed to lead viewers through sequential, transformational trainings covering everything from getting clear on one's own vision, to understanding the foundations of female psychology, to trainings on how to "lead" in a relationship and the art of conflict management.

"Our Guaranteed Girlfriend Program review shows that the course provides a comprehensive approach to finding and filtering for a quality 'girlfriend material' woman, and then 'embodying the masculine' in a way she just can't resist." reports Johnson. "Adam is widely considered to be one of the smartest and most eloquent teachers of masculine-feminine magnetism alive today, and we know our readers will get a lot out of learning this valuable information."
