Brady Announces Live “OSHA Safety Sign Update” Webinar on January 24
15-minute webinar will focus on making a switch to the latest ANSI Z535 standard

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (January 17, 2014) — Brady (NYSE:BRC), a global leader in industrial and safety printing systems and solutions, today announced a live webinar on the latest OSHA safety sign standard, taking place January 24, 2014, at 11 a.m. CT/12 p.m. ET.

Under OSHA’s Hazard Communication Standard update, issued November 6, 2013, organizations can now use either the American National Standard Institute (ANSI) standards from 1967-1968 (ANSI Z53.1, Z35.1 & Z35.2) or from 2011 (ANSI Z535.1, Z535.2 & Z535.5) for safety signage. The webinar will focus on how the format requirements changed, what signs need to communicate, when facility signs need to be updated and what happens if you don’t comply.

Tom Smith, product marketing specialist for Brady, will present on the topic. He has over 20 years of experience developing safety and facility identification products for industrial, commercial and construction markets.
