Did You Know?

The Center for Disease Control (CDC) estimates that, in the United States alone, over 12 million hospital/doctor visits per year can be attributed to Staph and MRSA infections.

According to the CDC, education of athletes and coaches, good personal hygiene, and disinfection of shared athletic equipment are essential to reduce MRSA infection in sports.

Three studies by the Texas State Dept of Health found that the infection rate among football players was 16x the national average.

A Ready To Use Disinfectant Spray, Clear Gear Sports Spray is specifically engineered to protect today's athlete. When used as directed on athletic equipment and in athletic facilities, Clear Gear Sports Spray kills infectious bacteria and viruses. In addition, Clear Gear deodorizes, cleans and is an effective fungicidal. Clear Gear's ready-to-use formula begins working immediately and kills a wide variety of germs including Staph, Strep and MRSA. Clear Gear is also effective against influenza, athlete's foot, ringworm, mold and mildew.

The CDC recommends cleaning with an Environmental Protection Agency registered disinfectant to remove MRSA from surfaces, especially surfaces that come in contact with bare skin.

A 2009 survey that was conducted in 650 high school and college athletic programs across the country revealed that 76% of the respondents' athletic programs had experienced at least one bacterial or viral skin infection. These results were up from 67% just two years prior in 2007. – "Anti-Infectives Week," November 9th, 2009

WHY WE USE CLEAR/GEAR SPORTS SPRAY

DAVID DIEHL / NY Giants (2003-Present), Offensive Line
2x Champ, All Pro, 149 NFL Starts out of 153 Games

"As a professional football player protecting my body is part of my job. I use Clear Gear Sports Spray to prevent bacteria and infections from keeping me sidelined. I recommend Clear Gear to all levels of athletes who are looking to stay healthy and in the game."

JOE DEFRANCO / DeFranco's Training Systems LLC
Men's Health Magazine, Voted America's 10 Best Gyms

"My gym has become world-renowned for our results and hardcore atmosphere. But, it's extremely important to me that people don't confuse the term hardcore with 'dirty'. Part of my job is to provide my athletes with a safe and clean training environment. This is why the last set of every exercise in my gym is a spray of Clear Gear! Every gym that cares about the health and well-being of their clients should make Clear Gear their last set as well!"

JEROD MAYO / NE Patriots, (2008-Present), Linebacker
All Pro, 1st Round Draft Pick, AP Defensive Rookie 2008

"Football is my job and the better prepared I am, the easier it is to prepare for my opponents on game day. Using Clear Gear on my equipment protects me from dangerous bacteria and infections that could keep me off the field and effect how I make my living. If you are playing any sport with equipment, Clear Gear can help keep you protected and focused on winning your next game."

JOHN GALLUCCI / MS, ATC, PT, DPT, Founder JAG PT
Medical Coordinator of Major League Soccer

"Infection is always a major concern in any rehabilitation facility and prevention is our biggest goal. We use Clear Gear Sports Spray on our training tables, soaking tubs, sinks and whirlpools. From the athletes themselves to moms and dads all the way through to Professional Athletic Trainers, everyone in the sports world should be using Clear Gear on a daily basis."
