

Seychelles Offshore Company

The Republic of Seychelles is an independent Republic within the Commonwealth with a population of 82,000. Seychelles comprises a group of approximately 115 islands in the Indian Ocean, most of which are situated between 4 and 5 degrees south of the equator. The country has good political stability with a democratically elected Government. The Seychelles economy is primarily based on tourism, commercial fishing and offshore financial services industry.

The International Business Company (IBC), which is both inexpensive and user-friendly, is the most popular corporate entity and can be used for many purposes. Seychelles is governed by civil law except for the corporate legislation and criminal law which are based on the English common law.

IBCs are exempt from taxation on business activities or transactions carried on outside the Republic of Seychelles, and although there are no specific laws to govern secrecy in relation to companies, the English common law imposes the duty for professionals to keep the affairs of their clients confidential.
