HDClear: A new innovation for storefront windows

As part of The AmGraph Group, AGRetail are able to offer HDClear custom decorative window films. HDClear is a new innovation for retail storefront windows, any design or image can be printed using color and white inks onto optically clear polyester film allowing the image to be viewed from both sides of your storefront! Any un-printed areas remain optically clear so not obstructing your merchandise or the view into your store.

If your looking for an stunning eye catching window graphic then HDClear can really make the difference to your storefront.

AGRetail: Helping retailers nationwide to reach their full potential

RETAIL DESIGN

Whether your creative undertaking is retail storefront windows, signage, interior graphics or POP graphics, we can help develop your brand so it connects with your target audience. By combining intelligent design services, relevant photography and illustration we are able to create graphics and marketing collateral that reflects your branding at the highest level.

PROJECT MANAGEMENT

Great design and production is nothing unless it can be realized within budget and delivered on time. This is where our highly motivated project management team comes in. With a great 'can do' attitude, no project is too complicated for them, whether it is a prestigious flagship store installation, a national storefront window rolling out to 100 stores or a Christmas campaign going out to over 500 stores. We make it our priority to manage our client's expectations and keep them informed and assured every step of the way.

INSTALLATION NETWORK

We have an experienced network of installers across North America and beyond. Our network is comprised of fully licensed and insured installers, making sure your brand message is always implemented to the highest standards.
