... it's time to bring balance and harmony back into our economies and businesses today

HEART & SOUL

Dr. Annie Lim

It's time for women to unleash their power and discover their own voice and creative capabilities. Women will be the ones to bring balance and harmony back into our economies and businesses today. In essence, my vision is to encourage women entrepreneurs to fully embrace the core of their femininity: HEART & SOUL. These women will, in return, create a profound impact in their living economies (communities) through their knowledge, wealth, philanthropic work and compassion; while expressing their purpose, joy and love in the work they do. These women entrepreneurs understand the importance of creating and generating businesses that are focused on benefitting all stakeholders – the people, the planet and the company. It's about ensuring social responsibility while creating wealth at the same time – trusting and knowing that spirituality and wealth can go hand in hand and does not have to be mutually exclusive.
