

Alternative Design Announces New Account Manager for the Northeast Territory

Nikke Nicolelis-Amaya brings 20 years of experience in the laboratory animal research community to her new role with the company

With the goal of continuing to provide personal account management services to all key accounts along the East Coast of the United States, Alternative Design announced the following change to its sales team.

Nikke Nicolelis-Amaya has been named the Account Manager for the Northeast Territory. Nikke will be the key point of contact for customers in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, the Carolinas and all of New England. Currently based out of Long Island, New York, Nikke graduated with a degree in Animal Husbandry from the University of Maryland. She brings over 20 years of experience in the laboratory animal research industry having previously served the Southern New England AALAS branch (<http://www.mysneaalas.org>) as both a 2-term treasurer and Vendor of the Year (2007, 2009). Nikke also chaired the Public Relations Committee for LAMA (<http://www.lama-online.org>) for 7 years (2002-2009). Nikke is experienced in building customer relationships while also working to ensure the products she represents will meet or exceed the needs of her customers. Grant Loyd, executive vice president of Alternative Design Manufacturing & Supply, stated, "Nikke's dedication and passion for this industry and the relationships that she has built over the years will make her a true asset to our team."
