GOERPCLOUD PARTNERS WITH ERPVAR.COM

goERPcloud's one of a kind ERP trials are now available through ERPVAR.com

San Diego, Calif. (April 15, 2014) goERPcloud has increased access to its enterprise resource planning software trials through a partnership with ERPVAR.com, announced goERPcloud Tuesday. ERP VAR visitors will now be able to immediately access no-cost Microsoft Dynamics ERP 30 day trials directly from ERPVAR.com, a network of ERP consultants.

"We are looking forward to working closely with goERPcloud.com to offer our website visitors a great way to test drive Microsoft Dynamics solutions before buying," said Adrian Montgomery, Partner at ERPVAR.com.

By partnering with goERPcloud, ERP VAR is able to offer its visitors trial access to the many varieties of Microsoft Dynamics including Dynamics NAV, GP and AX with optional CRM.   Trial users can explore Dynamics' core functionality such as financial management, business intelligence and human resources with access to integrated 3rd party solutions varying from eCommerce to manufacturing, sales tax automation and more.

"There is no better way for business leaders to truly know if they are selecting a solution that meets their organization's needs than to test drive it before they make the purchase," said Jeffery DeMaria, goERPcloud Product Manager. "Working with ERPVAR.com will help us empower the decision making process for businesses who are selecting new management software. When executives are able get hands-on with Dynamics ERP they can make a truly informed decision on a new financial and business management solution."
