

Meridian Leasing goes live with LeaseWave® from Odessa Technologies

April 07, 2014

Meridian Leasing Corporation ("Meridian"), one of the largest independent lessors in the IT industry, has gone live with LeaseWave®, the lease management suite provided by Odessa Technologies, Inc. ("Odessa"). The Meridian install of LeaseWave represents significant enhancements made to user experience for both front and back office personnel.

"Meridian offers creative leasing structures tailored to the unique financial requirements of each of our clients. The flexibility of LeaseWave will enable us to automate our highly customized services and meet the needs of our clients in the most efficient manner possible," says Bill Flaherty, Vice President and Chief Accounting Officer for Meridian.

"LeaseWave is engineered specifically to be configurable and customizable to tailor-fit each client's business, not just at implementation, but on an ongoing basis as requirements change," says Jim Humphrey, SVP of Sales and Marketing at Odessa. "LeaseWave provides Meridian with all of the functionality of their prior legacy application that was custom built for their business, plus ongoing support from a vendor committed to remaining in step with the latest advancements in web-based enterprise technology, providing a solution that will enable Meridian to always remain on the cutting edge."
