

Houston ABA Therapy for Autism

In-home Intensive Autism Intervention Services

At Trumpet Behavioral Health, we understand that children learn best in functional, natural settings. Home-based services follow a best practice model involving behavior assessment, teaching appropriate skills, reducing challenging behaviors and providing coaching and support to those implementing the program.

We work with you to help identify why your child may be engaging in challenging behavior and to find ways to help motivate him or her to improve that behavior. We also look at the skills your child may already have and determine how to build on these skills to develop new social, communication, academic and life skills as well as other positive behaviors.

About Us

Trumpet Behavioral Health is a leading provider of behavioral health services. We specialize in the treatment of children and adolescents with Autism Spectrum Disorders and related disorders using the principles of Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA).

At Trumpet, we strive to maximize the potential of our clients by creating lasting partnerships with children, parents, educators and healthcare professionals.
