

Commonwealth Legal becomes First Ipro Partner to Achieve Platinum Status.

TORONTO, ON, CANADA – May 1, 2014 – COMMONWEALTH LEGAL INC, Canada’s only ISO 9001:2008 quality-certified service provider for ediscovery and information management solutions, and IPRO TECH LLC, a worldwide leader in the design of ediscovery software, announced today that Commonwealth Legal is the first partner to reach Platinum Partner Status. This is the most prestigious partnership status Ipro offers; to obtain it requires rigorous testing and qualifications.

“We are thrilled to be the very first Ipro Service Partner to reach Platinum Status,” said Andrea Williams, Vice President, Client Services at Commonwealth Legal. “This achievement ties in with our strategy to change the way evidence is managed in Canada by empowering law firms to take control over their cases and enhance the traditional approach to document review. We are extremely proud of the hard work and dedication of our team to obtain this accomplishment.”

Ipro Service Partners use Ipro solutions within their organizations to provide superior litigation support services to law firms and corporations around the world. Platinum Service Partners have successfully fulfilled and maintained the most demanding infrastructure and staff certification requirements necessary to achieve their Ipro Partner Status, and are recognized by Ipro as a recommended vendor to law firms and corporations.

“We are excited to welcome Commonwealth Legal into this prestigious program, and that they are the first partner to reach Platinum Status,” said Kim Taylor, President and COO of Ipro. “Our two organizations have been working together in partnership for nearly 15 years, which gives Commonwealth Legal unique insight into our products. By committing to this program, Commonwealth Legal continues to lead the charge in the Canadian market and implement Ipro’s Enterprise platform as the “everyday” discovery solution for law firms and corporations.”

Ipro’s Enterprise discovery suite offers the latest in early case assessment, ediscovery processing, web-based review, analytics, predictive coding, and high-speed production and transcript management functionality. Designed to streamline the discovery process, it combines advanced features with a simple, intuitive functionality for managing cases from case inception to trial. The Enterprise suite has a “Windows® 8” look and feel, which provides a consistent and user-friendly interface across all three of its applications—Allegro, Eclipse, and eCapture. Customers can experience industry-leading functionality for managing evidence in a cost-effective format.

Ipro Enterprise 2013 is available through Commonwealth Legal as a direct installation within an organization’s own infrastructure, as part of our cloud-based managed services offering, or as part of our new “Do-It-Yourself Discovery” model. ###
