

"Reach for the stars. Although you will never touch them, if you reach hard enough, you will find that you get a little star dust on you in the process."

~Norman Borlaug

Centre County Farm Bureau
announces the
"Drive" for the Future of Agriculture golf tournament to be held on Monday, August 11, 2014, just before Penn State's Ag Progress Days opens.

Proceeds from this first annual tournament to be held at

Mountain View Country Club,

(Only a few miles away from the Ag Progress Days Expo grounds outside State College.)

will benefit

Penn State Collegiate Farm Bureau
and the PA Friends of Ag Foundation.

Tournament Chair Abe Harpster of Evergreen Farms states:

"Farming today increasingly demands the skills that a formal agricultural education provides."

This tournament will help offer that opportunity through college level scholarships and, at the elementary and middle school level, fund the Ag Lab program that educates younger students about the food they eat.

That is an investment for the future which is a win-win for farmer and consumer alike."

In collaboration with
Penn State Collegiate Farm Bureau
