Flasking.com Launches with Artful Flasks and Style for Spirits!

From signed and numbered limited-edition art flasks, to vibrant and affordable flasks for every taste, style and fashion, Flasking.com is the new destination for flask aficionados or those simply seeking the perfect accessory.

LOS ANGELES, CA. Celebrating the art and culture of the hip flask with an array of gorgeous and giftworthy flasks, Flasking.com is launching now to help the world raise a flask to the perfect moment.

Flasking.com offers hundreds of unique flasks for sale, including a collection of superb limited-edition art flasks (a world first!). Campy? Elegant? Madcap? Even a bit...bawdy? Yes, yes, yes, and goodness gracious yes! Flasking.com's flasks aren't just for storage or libation delivery, they're style for spirits and portable works of art. The site offers a wide array of beautiful limited-edition flasks—handcrafted, signed and numbered by artists from around the U.S.—plus a multitude of other flasks designed to suit every taste imaginable. Flask sizes range from 4 to 12 ounces, and are perfect for pockets, purses, and more.

“Our flasks are ideal for experienced flaskers and novices alike: anyone who wants to make a statement with a durable, beautifully designed accessory that goes wherever they do,” comments Flasking.com founder and Los Angeles entrepreneur Brad Copeland. “Flasking.com goes beyond the plain silver flask of years past, with a wide range of fun and fashionable hip flasks that are by turns elegant, quirky, witty, gothic, or geeky.”

Liquor Flasks as Collectibles and Portable Art

While Flasking.com offers an array of cool “non-limited” flasks, its limited-edition flasks are portable works of art, featuring vibrant and unique designs created by its team of artists using such techniques as decoupage, painting, drawing, and more. Each Limited Edition is designed by an artist—the result of individual craftsmanship and care. Each offers personality and wit to spare, like “Oddzilla,” $44, a timely Godzilla tribute, and a glimpse of a flask-totin’ mythical monster with “Bigfootin’,” $44. Other popular selections include “Scatterbrain,” a poetic evocation of literally scattered thoughts, $34, and “Beethoven’s Fifth,” $44, celebrating the immortal composer. Among the other highly collectible Limited Editions are homages to pop culture, classic movies, historical figures, heroes and heroines, and many more.

Best of all, just as with any high-quality piece of art, each limited-edition flask is signed and numbered by the artist—the perfect gift or keepsake for fans of art, spirits, and cool collectibles. It’s truly art for the pocket and style for spirits.

Getting Social with Flasking.com

Flasking.com also offers a stream of wit and fun as it keeps the good times rolling on Twitter, Facebook, and Tumblr: via @flasking, facebook.com/flasking, and flasking.tumblr.com, respectively.

About Flasking.com
