

Duolingo Application Makes Language Acquisition Fun and Fast

Now Available for Intel® Atom™ Tablets for Android*

The world is getting smaller and simultaneously more diverse; being multi-lingual is becoming a basic skill in the global community. However, it takes time and effort to adapt a new tongue. But what if that time was condensed into fun, engaging, skill-building activities that only took a few minutes a day? Duolingo has done just that.

Now that it is optimized for Android tablets, Duolingo can bring its entertaining games to a larger audience of language students. This scientifically validated method makes it easy to start speaking, understanding, writing and reading another tongue in a considerably short time.

Users can download the app and play games in which they earn points or lose “lives” for each right or wrong answer. Breaking vocabulary, pronunciation and grammar down into bite-size components, this point system enables them to monitor their progress over time. An independent study established that 34 hours of entertaining games and activities on Duolingo actually equal an entire semester of a university language course. Becoming conversational in Spanish, French, Italian, German, Portuguese and English are all within easy reach with this exceptional application.
