

PromptSmart – The first ever voice recognition-enabled teleprompter app!

Transform your iPad or iPhone into a voice-guided teleprompter with PromptSmart—the first iOS teleprompter app with VoiceTrack™ voice recognition technology! PromptSmart is completely customizable, easy-to-use, and puts professional public speaking tools in the palm of your hand.

PromptSmart's innovative VoiceTrack™ technology follows your every word, tracking your actual pace and even knows when you pause, all in real time! Even better, calibration or an internet connection is not required since all processing is done on your device. For speakers who prefer less structured engagements, PromptSmart enables you to stay on-point with a built-in digital notecard feature that ensures you cover the key messages. Easily divide a document into notecards, rearrange as needed, and set optimal viewing parameters.

Whether planning a business presentation, giving a wedding toast, or crafting a speech for debate class, PromptSmart has everything you need to master stress-free public speaking.

Select features include:

- VoiceTrack™ proprietary voice recognition: PromptSmart follows your voice, adjusting scroll speed according to your actual pace and position in the text (no data/ internet connection required)
- Easy to use: PromptSmart is ready to go as soon as you download it, with no need to calibrate
- Place-holding: If you go off-script, PromptSmart will hold your place until you get back on track
- Customization: Change fonts, text sizes and colors, and pick the guide style that works best for you
- Speeches on the go: Download .docx or .txt files from the cloud or email and PromptSmart turns them into speeches and/ or digital notecards automatically
- Voice recording: Practice your speech and play it back to make improvements
- Many additional features including: auto scroll (constant words per minute) and manual scroll, full rich text for notecards, timer, and more!

PromptSmart will be available in the App Store for a special launch price of $9.99 on Thursday, August 14.

About PromptSmart

PromptSmart was born out of a passion for public speaking. As a Communications Fellow at Wharton Business School, PromptSmart CEO and Founder Eric Sadkin coached and mentored students in the art of public speaking. Realizing that many orators would be better supported by an intuitive, speaker-controlled teleprompter and a way to digitally create and display notes, Sadkin also recognized that today's mobile devices could address these needs. With these in mind, PromptSmart was created.
