

SnapMovie by Rena Software Creates Movie Memories

Now Available for Intel® Atom™ Tablets for Android*

The digital revolution made recording the best moments in time much simpler. Now, there is an even more elegant, personalized way to capture life's special events with the SnapMovie application by Rena Software. Android* device users can record and edit short movies together and customize them with charming and thoughtful enhancements. Mini-movies can be shared through email and social media instantly. This versatile app can be implemented for a broad range of uses in both work and play.

SnapMovie lets users take one-to-six second clips and adjust the aspect ratio according to their needs. These clips can be edited together with the tap of a finger. Background music, filters and text can be added into each little montage for extra impact. Once these simple vignettes are finished, they can be uploaded to Facebook* or Twitter, or shared via email. Making lasting, beautiful memories just got a little easier with the SnapMovie app.
