

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MEDIA CONTACT:

Ramon Van Meer
Lets Fly Cheaper
925.548.7758
vanmeer@letsflycheaper.com

August 27, 2014 - Lets Fly Cheaper announces its “Best/Worst U.S. Airports for Business Travelers List” based on traveler ratings.

NEW “BEST AND WORST U.S. AIRPORTS FOR BUSINESS TRAVELERS” LIST

REVEALED BY LETS FLY CHEAPER

Las Vegas, August 27, 2014 -- Denver’s a mile high in traveler esteem and Miami’s underwater, according the latest “Best and Worst U.S. Airports for the Business Traveler” list compiled by low fares business travel specialist Lets Fly Cheaper (LFC). LFC has recently released its list of the 10 busiest domestic airports using flyer ratings for the airports overall and delayed flights, as well as specific services/amenities of particular interest to business class travelers: lounges, business centers, airport website (information and tools), Internet connectivity and Wi-Fi access. In a tradition started in 2012, LFC periodically compiles best/worst lists of airports and airlines for the business travelers.

The winner for “best” airport is Denver International, with an overall rating of 4.0 out of 5 and an on-time rating of 3.9. Denver, fifth out of 10 in passenger volume, also earns high scores across the five business traveler categories, including a 4.0 for its website and a 3.9 for business centers. Charlotte Douglas (NC) and Dallas/Fort Worth come in at second and third among the nation’s best airports.

Although it is the 10th of the 10 busiest airports, Miami ranks “worst” with its travelers. Miami scores a paltry 2.3 overall and a 2.6 in on-time flights. Only Chicago O’Hare has a worse on-time rating (2.3), but its overall airport rating is 3.0; higher than Miami (2.3), LAX (2.4) and New York’s JFK (2.9). Miami scores 2.6 consistently across all business traveler measures. Los Angeles also fares poorly in business traveler rankings and receives a 2.4 total rating from travelers, despite a relatively good on-time rating of 3.0.

“There are myriad ways to evaluate an airport,” said Ramon van Meer of Lets Fly Cheaper. “We serve business class travelers, thus our “best and worst” lists look at airports from the perspective of the business traveler. Amenities within the airport are essential to these travelers. Delayed flights can be devastating to their business trip. To the extent we can steer business travelers to airports that will best provide for their needs, we’re going to do that.”

The Let’s Fly Cheaper list is based on these statistics:

Rank	Airport Code	Airport Name	Overall Flyer Rating	On-Time Rating
1	ATL	Atlanta International A	3.2	2.8
2	ORD	Chicago O’Hare International	3	2.3
3	LAX	Los Angeles International	2.4	3
4	DFW	Dallas/Fort Worth International	3.7	3.4
5	DEN	Denver International	4	3.9
6	JFK	New York/John F. Kennedy	2.9	2.5
7	SFO	San Francisco International	3.7	3.2
8	CLT	Charlotte Douglas International	3.8	3.4
9	LAS	Las Vegas McCarran International	3.2	3.3
10	MIA	Miami International	2.3	2.6

Rank	Airport	Lounges	Business Centers	Airport Website Info	Internet Connectivity	Wi-Fi
1	Atlanta	3.2	3.1	3.1	3	2.8
2	Chicago O’Hare	3	2.9	2.8	2.9	2.8
3	Los Angeles	2.5	2.5	2.8	2.7	2.7
4	Dallas/Ft. Worth	3.8	3.7	3.6	3.5	3.5
5	Denver	3.8	3.9	4	3.7	3.7
6	New York/JFK	2.9	3	2.8	2.9	2.8
7	San Francisco	3.5	3.4	3.4	3.2	3.2
8	Charlotte	3.5	3.6	3.4	3.7	3.8
9	Las Vegas	3.1	2.9	3.5	3.5	3.5
10	Miami	2.6	2.6	2.6	2.6	2.6

The Lets Fly Cheaper’s “Best/Worst U.S. Airports for Business Travelers” list is based on statistics from flightstats.com and airport passenger/movement volume rankings from Airports Council International. For more information please go to

<http://www.letsflycheaper.com/blog/new-best-worst-u-s-airports-business-travelers-2014/>

###