What stage of cellulite do I have?

Stage 1: Cellulite development is only visible through a microscope. There is no visible appearance at the site even if pinching the area.

Stage 2: The pinch test; if you pinch an area and cellulite is visible you are in stage two. Without pinching your skin, your butt and thighs still look smooth.

Stage 3: There is no need for the pinch test in stage three cellulite, because dimples are very visible but not spread dramatically. The dimples are not too deep. When you lay down, no visible signs will show. We sometimes hear clients say their legs feel heavy.

Stage 4: Cellulite is very visible. Cellulite is heavily covering your buttocks, legs, and even arms or stomach area. This appearance will stay the same standing up or laying down.
