

inPharmacy Jobs Announces New Partnership with National Pharmaceutical Association

RALEIGH, NC - September 9, 2014 - inPharmacy Jobs, the leading provider of job-search and online recruitment services for the pharmacy industry, announced today a new partnership with the National Pharmaceutical Association (NPhA).

The partnership creates a new jobs page on the NPhA site, powered exclusively by inPharmacy Jobs. "This jobs page begins our process of building "A New Foundation" by providing more membership benefits through our organization," said Carleton Maxwell, Pharm.D, BCPS, President of the NPhA, "We are pleased to partner with inPharmacy Jobs to provide access for our NPhA and SNPhA members in their search for employment opportunities."

"The NPhA represents another great addition to the inPharmacy Jobs Power Network," said Brad McCorkle, founder of inPharmacyJobs.com, "Industry partnerships are a critical part of what we do, and provide the key differentiator for us from generic job sites. Partnering with the NPhA allows us to provide NPhA and SNPhA members with a truly unique service."

Additional partners in the inPharmacy Jobs Network include: U.S. Pharmacist magazine, Power-Pak C.E., Pharm QD, and Pharmacist eLink from the NCPA. Each partner in the network, including now NPhA, utilize inPharmacyJobs.com exclusively for providing job listings on their sites. To visit the new Job Board on NPhA, please visit:
