

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

DATAForceWeb® LE Records Management System

Domestic violence cases are difficult for everyone involved: families are often torn apart, responding officers are placed in difficult and dangerous situations, prosecutors and the courts must take great care to see to it that justice is served and lives are protected, often with less-than-willing witnesses. In such cases, accurate and detailed records are highly valuable commodities. With all such considerations in mind, ADSi developed a Domestic Violence System within its DataForce Web LE Records Management System to assist in the collection, preservation, and presentation of vital data connected to any case involving domestic violence.
