

Top Indie Game Death Worm by PlayCreek LLC

Now Available for Intel® Atom™ Tablets for Android*

The PlayCreek development team has collaborated with Intel® to optimize its popular game Death Worm for Android* tablets powered by Intel® Atom™ processors. Users of these devices can now take part in vibrant, mind-boggling underground monster action to relieve stress and have a lot of fun.

What is Death Worm? An alien? An awakened prehistoric predator? A genetic monster? It is really not important for those unfortunate who have sunk into oblivion in his giant poisonous throat! There is nowhere to hide: the monster feeds in four different locations. With 60 challenging levels and three bonus mini-games, the game never grows stale. Two different survival modes are available, so keep feeding the monster! Animals, birds, lizards, tigers, businessmen and bikers are nothing more than snacks for the hungry worm. Blow up cars and tanks, bring down planes, helicopters, defeat the army and even the alien UFOs!

The Death Worm Adventure is Brought to Android* Tablets Powered by Intel Atom Processors

Death Worm supports HD displays and features smooth graphics, which look better than ever on Android* tablets. The high-resolution screen of the device is perfect for the game's stunning visual effects.

Players can unlock various achievements as the game progresses, and your high scores get into the leaderboards. The mobility of Intel Atom processor-based Android* tablets allows players of all ages to play anywhere, to quickly relieve stress or just have fun.
