CircleBack has solved the contacts management problem for businesses.

At CircleBack, our philosophy is "Every Contact Counts" and our primary goal is to ensure that your contacts are always clean, complete and up-to-date.

CircleBack's database is generated by more than 3 million users adding 1 million contacts per day and conducting over 1 billion interactions with their contacts per week. These contacts are processed through our patented technology, Shared IQ™, which is developed using passive crowdsourcing theories and artificial intelligence algorithms. The end result is a database of contacts which is continuously cleaned, completed, and updated in real-time.

CircleBack includes data scientists from MIT, artificial intelligence experts, and the founding team of Jigsaw – now Data.com for Salesforce. Together we have solved the contacts management problem for businesses by developing a smart, comprehensive, and state of the art approach to Data as a Service (DaaS).

Now, with the power of CircleBack, you can efficiently grow your pipeline, generate quality leads, and increase your revenue.
