

Local Eye Site Announces New Partnership with American Board of Opticianry and National Contact Lens Examiners

Raleigh, NC (October 27, 2014) – Local Eye Site, the leading provider of job-search and online recruitment services for the eye care industry, announced today a new partnership with the American Board of Opticianry and National Contact Lens Examiners (ABO-NCLE).

The partnership creates a link to the Local Eye Site jobs page directly on the ABO-NCLE homepage. “We’re thrilled to offer this type of service to our certificants,” said Jim Morris, Executive Director of the ABO-NCLE. “Providing a way for Opticians and Contact Lens Technicians to discover employment opportunities through our website is something we know will contribute to the career and professional development of our certificants, and we couldn’t be more excited to be a part of it.”

“We’re excited to power the job board for the ABO-NCLE,” said Brad McCorkle, Founder of Local Eye Site. “This partnership will deliver a wide range of employment opportunities to a larger audience of Opticians and Contact Lens, while providing improved results for Local Eye Site customers recruiting professionals within these disciplines.”

The Job Board on ABO-NCLE.org will serve to provide a simple, efficient and user friendly resource for job seekers and employers alike. Employers can now post positions on LocalEyeSite.com that will be automatically promoted on ABO-NCLE.org, effectively reaching a more targeted audience for their job postings.
