

Insouciance Abroad is committed to the vision of each and every music student receiving the singularly life-changing experience of participating in a performance tour.

All Insouciance Abroad staff have been members of traveling music groups and continue to perform.

Arranging and overseeing group travel is complicated enough. Doing it with musical instruments, equipment and students in the mix requires a company with greater expertise and attention to detail. Insouciance Abroad, comprised of a professional team with roots in music performance and travel, specializes in anticipating and managing the nuances involved in such an undertaking.

With over fifteen years devoted to music and travel, Insouciance Abroad has taken hundreds of student music groups – ranging from middle school to university level – all over the world. From North America, South America, Europe, Asia, Africa, and Australia, as well as to nearly every cultural epicenter across the United States – we ensure groups have an engaging and safe experience. And the best part, we do it on your schedule, on your budget, and with your goals and dreams as our priority!

Groups Insouciance Abroad has traveled with have performed at the Kennedy Center and Carnegie Hall in the US, and the Sydney Opera House, Windsor Castle, and the Salzburg Dom, as well as music festivals

Whether it be choral groups, orchestras, or bell choirs, music teachers, chaperones, and students alike sing the praises of Insouciance Abroad. We apply our skills, drawing from our broad experience, to smooth out all the tangles of travel and clear the way for vibrant cultural experiences that are affordable, easy, and rich with memories!

Every element of our clients' trips are hand-selected with the needs of the group in mind. Our dedicated staff ensures that all the details are accounted for, under our stringent standards, to ensure that the trip is a success, bringing the best possible experience to each and every traveler.

One of the aspects that sets Insouciance Abroad apart is our experience in identifying and securing performance venues, which stems from our passion for and dedication to music and the opportunity for students to participate in these performance tours. Ranging from local schools to city squares to well-known performing arts venues, Insouciance Abroad helps find the venues that will showcase the talents and abilities of your groups.

Our Accompanied Tour offering allows group leaders or chaperons to focus on participating in the experiences and forming life-long memories, rather than worrying about logistical challenges.

in-sou-ci-ance (noun)

a relaxed and calm state;
a feeling of not worrying about anything

The Insouciance Abroad Tour Manager acts as the key liaison at all times to handle all logistics and details pertaining to transportation, customs and immigration, translation, accommodations, meals, etc. and provide on-the-spot solutions to any travel-related challenges.

Our clients say that Accompanied Tours have transformed their touring experiences. Logistics are simplified. Stress is alleviated. And time is freed-up to focus on the group, music, and performances, and generally enhancing the experience in a way that is attainable and affordable.

Have a trip you've always dreamt of? Want to take your group on a life changing trip? Reach out, send an email to mytrip@insoucianceabroad.com to schedule a conversation with someone on our team.

Prefer the phone? 888.626.2927 connects to a live person who can guide you. We would love to talk, share stories about phenomenal places around the world and get to know you.