

Executive Search Firm Slone Partners Expands With New Boston Office

WASHINGTON, DC – Nov 3, 2014

Slone Partners, a national recruitment firm for the Diagnostic, Clinical Therapeutics, Healthcare IT, and Laboratory Testing industries, is expanding with the addition of a dedicated Boston office to accommodate Kendall Square and the thriving biotech and life science industries.

Slone Partners' growth in the Boston area strengthens the deep roots the firm already has in the Boston Biotech/Life Sciences cluster. Annual sponsorships for events such as the Personalized Medicine Coalition Tenth Annual Boston Reception, held this November, have long been a priority for the company. They are also active members of The Massachusetts Biotechnology Council, the nation's oldest biotechnology trade association comprised of more than 650 biotechnology companies, universities, and academic institutions.

"Slone Partners works with so many visionary minds in Boston, and we continue to expand our reach in this space. Our addition of a Boston office will allow us to deliver premier talent to more companies in the area – talent that is essential to the innovative, life-saving work that so many here are focused on," said Tara Kochis, President of Slone Partners.

"Coming from the Boston Life Sciences industry," said Salma Tag, one of Slone Partners' Boston-based team members, "I am looking forward to putting my background to work to build outstanding leadership teams for our clients. As specialists, Slone Partners has unmatched expertise in this industry, and there is no question that we are finding the best leaders in the Boston area."

Slone Partners is a premier national recruitment firm that specializes in delivering board, executive, leadership, and scientific talent for the Diagnostics, Clinical Therapeutics, Healthcare IT, and Laboratory Testing industries. Since 2000, we have worked with cutting-edge, demanding organizations to quickly attract and hire the best industry talent.

Premier Talent. Delivered.
