Sign up to our travel risk assessment calculator

Our online travel risk assessment calculator provides a cost effective and easy to use approach to assessing the risk associated with a forthcoming journey. The calculator can be accessed from any device with internet access.

Assess the risk of any leisure or business travel

The assessment calculator gathers personal details, pre-travel information and destination details and then provides a detailed report on the current risk level together with advice on how to minimise risk.

About etravelsafety.com

etravelsafety.com provides online travel safety advice, through a range of interactive packages. Our team has many years experience in travel safety and travel security, from teaching individuals, to multinational corporations, all around the globe.

etravelsafety.com has been involved in the delivery of pre-travel training, assisting deployment, and also managing travel, from remote locations, to tourist destinations. During this time we have gained an understanding of our market and believe that a cost effective Travel Safety solution could be produced, that was not only hassle free but also easy to use.
