LAKE FOREST, Calif. (November 13, 2014) – The International Wine of the Month Club, an online wine club that supplies members with rare or exclusive wines from around the world on a monthly basis, announces that its December shipment will feature three new wines: Sergio Gomba's 2010 Querciola Sori Barolo, Château Beauregard Ducasse's 2010 Château Ducasse Graves, and Château Andréa's 2013 Château Andréa Graves Blanc.

The 2010 Querciola Sori Barolo and the 2013 Château Andréa Graves Blanc are exclusive to The International Wine of the Month Club, while the 2010 Château Ducasse Graves is making its North American debut.

"These three wines are some of the best we've offered this year," says Don Lahey, director of product development. "The fact that two of these wines are exclusive to our club, while the third is completely new to North America, makes for a great holiday offering for our members."

The 2013 Château Andréa Graves, a white wine, and the 2010 Château Ducasse Graves, a red wine, hail from Graves, France, Bordeaux's oldest appellation, which is renowned for its high-quality wine. Château Ducasse is managed by a family of sixth-generation winemakers, and is known throughout Southern France for exceptional wines. Both Château Ducasse and Château Andréa will be included in the December Premier Series shipment.

The 2010 Querciola Sori Barolo is produced by famed winemaker Sergio Gomba, owner of the Boschetti estate outside Piedmont, Italy, a region famous for its high-quality grapes and Barolo wines. The 2010 Querciola Sori Barolo will be available in the December Collector's Series shipment.

Each year, The International Wine of the Month Club captures 52% of its annual revenue in December, as the club is so well received as a gift. Exclusive wines, like the 2010 Querciola Sori Barolo and the 2013 Château Andréa Graves Blanc, make excellent gifts for friends and family members who love rare and hard-to-find wines.
