JOHNNIE WALKER RV'S TAKES ANOTHER DIP IN REALITY TV ON ANIMAL PLANET'S TANKED

LAS VEGAS, NV – Johnnie Walker RV's, Nevada's largest dealer of new and used RV's, made an encore appearance on Tanked, Discovery's Animal Planet's top-rated show, nearly two years after they were featured on an episode during the show's third season, titled, "Jurassic Campground." On Friday, November 28, 2014, Johnnie Walker RV's was featured on an episode of the show where Wayde King and Brett Raymer, brothers-in-law, business partners, best friends and rivals, travel across the country to visit, evaluate and update some of their show-stopping custom aquariums. Johnnie Walker RV's 370-gallon aquarium was custom built into an Econ travel trailer, furnished by Pacific Coachworks, and remains on display in the dealership's showroom.

"Our first appearance on Tanked was a really special way to commemorate Johnnie Walker RV's 50th Anniversary in business," says Michael Walker, Marketing Director for Johnnie Walker RV's and great-grandson of the company's founder. "We enjoyed our time on the show, and it was humbling that Brett and Wayde wanted to check up on us for a second episode. Displaying the RV aquarium in our showroom continues to draw a crowd even two years after the initial premier, exposing our inventory to a wider audience who may not be aware of the various and affordable RV's that we offer. This second appearance on the show will be great opportunity to further expand the reach that we have, and hopefully bring in more curious potential customers, especially during this holiday season."

The "Tank You Come Again" episode, featuring Johnnie Walker RV's, debuted on Friday, November 28, 2014, and will repeat throughout the month of December.
