JOHN NAGLE CO. ANNOUNCES SEAFOOD OPERATION EXPANSION

Boston, MA December 4th, 2014 –Fourth generation seafood distributor in Boston expands to meet growing demand for high quality seafood by adding processing capabilities. The John Nagle Co. has added an accomplished team of experienced fish cutters and managers to its current operation in Boston's historic Seaport.

“We have a talented team of outstanding professionals coupled with the energy and capability of our fifth generation, who are providing our customers with the highest quality seafood,” said Charles Nagle, President of John Nagle Co. and great-grandson of the company's founder, John Nagle.

This expansion in their current SQF Level 3 Certified and HACCP Certified facility allows the company to offer an increased variety of fresh cut and processed seafood products. For 127 years the Nagle family has developed strong relationships with aquaculturalists, processors and many of the oldest fishing families in the United States and around the world. They are committed to their extensive local and global network of suppliers and strive to maintain and develop these strong partnerships.
