NCM Online Launches Spanish Language Version of Website

Leading web hosting review site now accessible by more than 300 million Spanish language speakers.

New York, NY – December 22, 2014 – NCM Online (www.ncmonline.com), a leader in the publication of unbiased web host testing, reviews and analysis, has launched a Spanish-language version in recognition of the growing number of visitors from Spain and Latin America.

Spanish-speaking site visitors can now access all of the rankings, reviews, speed and uptime test results, coupon codes, discounts, special offers, and more in their native language at <http://www.ncmonline.com/espanol/>.

“We are always pleased to make our website more accessible to users,” said NCM Online editor, Patricia Roberts. She continued, “We are especially proud of this launch as it addresses the pressing need to enhance ease of use for the growing number of Spanish-speaking visitors.”

“As the popularity of NCM Online continues to grow, visitors can look forward to the availability of additional language versions of the site. Based on the initial reaction to this launch, we are presently considering the publication of a Portuguese-language version,” added NCM Online editor, Anthony Ailed.

About NCM Online

NCM Online provides all of its site visitors with the benefits of their singular, data-driven approach to low-cost web hosting analysis and ranking. The cheapest available hosting plans are purchased from popular services and tested for page-load speed and reliability before any review is written. This method results in unbiased reviews and rankings that are largely based on collected data, and to a lesser extent, expert opinion. For additional information, visit <http://www.ncmonline.com/>.
