Plauché Maselli Parkerson Picks Iris for eDiscovery Managed Services

Kansas City, February 5, 2015 – Iris Data Services, the leader in eDiscovery managed services, today announced that New Orleans-based law firm Plauché Maselli Parkerson has signed a multi-year eDiscovery managed services agreement with Iris. The deal includes Arc, Iris' managed services review product. Arc combines the industry-leading review platform, Relativity, with workflows and backend support to manage eDiscovery of any size.

“Plauché looks to use the latest technology and best practices to serve their clients as efficiently as possible,” said Major Baisden, president of Iris Data Services. “We appreciate the opportunity to partner with like-minded people.”

Plauché Maselli Parkerson specializes in insurance and corporate defense. Their purchase of Arc for eDiscovery document hosting and review will provide the tools and workflow to efficiently manage and report on the eDiscovery process. Arc appealed to the partners at Plauché because it levels the playing field for eDiscovery by wrapping workflow and support around kCura's market-leading eDiscovery platform, Relativity.
