Webinar Jam Studio claims to be one of the most trusted tools around when it comes to webinars. This has caught the attention of MarketersBlueprint.com's Stan Stevenson, prompting an investigative review.

"Our Webinar Jam Studio review shows that it has already produced over 87 thousands webinars with over 30 million registrations, and it has over 17 thousand users. It allows you to create unlimited webinars and have unlimited attendees," reports Stevenson. "Perfect for anyone who wants to create webinars for their business, this is the easiest, most feature-packed webinar platform on the market. If you plan to host a few webinars this year promoting new or even existing products or services, then this will help you to get leads and sales without a lot of effort. Attendees don't need to dial in or download any software."

Webinar Jam Studio includes features like the Control Center, video inject for hybrid webinars, interactive call to action, feedback flow, replica replay and attendee spotlight. Webinars are hosted on solid servers and recorded webinars are stored on a user's YouTube channel. People are given the option to charge attendees to view the webinar, the ability to redirect attendees from the webinar, have multiple presenters, segment attendees and send specific emails to them according to what they did (or did not do) at the webinar. Apart from pre-made landing page templates that are proven to convert up to 70%, detailed analytics, social media integration and unlimited live chat where they can post links, they can create instant polls.

"This affordable program allows you to create unlimited webinars, invite unlimited attendees and set up a webinar in minutes using pre-formatted landing page designs. You can pass all your webinar leads to your list and quickly build up your list, and allow your webinar audience to interact with the webinar through video or audio," says Stevenson. "Instantly post comments or sales for social proof and reach out to your webinar attendees after the webinar based on what they did or did not do. This product takes out of all the work and gives you all the advantages to get the leads and sales you are looking for with your next webinar."

"Webinar Jam Studio is not going to disappoint anyone who wants to run their own webinar and make the most out of it. If you plan to incorporate webinars into your marketing strategy, then this is something that you will need to use for maximum success. It is user-friendly, and you can easily get people to sign up to your webinars. Prerecord any sections in your 'live' webinar that you want to be perfect. Interact with the audience in a powerful way with just the touch of a button, get social proof with just the touch of a button and easily embed your registration form on your blog. You can't ask for anything more than all of that."
