

Is this the end of "One-Size-Fits-All" schooling?

Should teachers be collaborators or instructors?

Should children be bystanders in their own education...

...or have a voice and choice?

Book Discussion & Presentation

With Allison Zmuda, author of Learning Personalized

Thursday, May 7, 7:30 p.m.

Pasadena City College Community Education Center
3035 East Foothill Blvd., Pasadena, CA 91107

Parents and educators will hear about a teaching and learning model catching on in public education.

Presenters will draw from the new book, Learning Personalized: The Evolution of the Contemporary Classroom, a groundbreaking resource that challenges parents and educators to rethink schooling and honor students' natural willingness to play, problem solve, fail, re-imagine, and share.

Space is limited

Reserve your spot here.

Or Call 626-585-3294

