FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SBA Designates E-Logic, Inc. as a HUBZone certified company

E-Logic, Inc. open for business with broader reach to US Government clientele due to the April 13, 2015 certification as HUBZone by the SBA.

Washington, DC – E-Logic, Inc., a trailblazer in the booming IT industry, recently announced it has secured the U.S. Small Business Administration HUBZone Certification (Historically Underutilize Business Zone). This certification program stimulates economic development and creates jobs by providing Federal contracting preferences to small HUBZone certified businesses. E-Logic, will utilize this certification to gain broader reach into U.S. Government contracting activities at home and abroad.

As a value-added system integrator and IT turnkey solutions provider, the company supplies the government with IT Hardware, Software, Maintenance, Support, Installation and Integration Services that meet the needs of any government agency throughout the United States (U.S.) and its foreign missions across the world.

“We see this as an important milestone in the history of E-Logic,” said Luis Padilla, CEO of E-Logic, Inc. “It narrows the playing field and we hope it will allow us to bring more business and jobs home to the District of Columbia.” He further states that this certification “...Opens the doors to teaming and prospective partnerships with current prime contractors.” E-Logic, will pursue broader opportunities within multiple agencies to take advantage of HUBZone program.

As government agencies are continually encouraged to set-aside requirements for small businesses, the HUBZone program provides a simplified acquisition method for procuring IT products/services. Based on E-Logic’s experience, these agencies include, but are not limited to the Department of State, USAID and Department of Education.
