Chadder Named At Top Of Silicon Valley Venture Network's App List
Kolegraff Venture Capital Names Chadder's secure and private instant messaging app to top of app list.

Rochester NY/Opelika Alabama- Thursday June 25, 2015- Chadder, the private and secure instant messaging app created by Rochester NY and Opelika Alabama based Etransfr, was named at the top of the Kolegraff Venture Capital Network's recommended app list.

Kolegraff, a Cupertino California based venture network, connects entrepreneurs with seed and venture capital worldwide. The current list of ranked apps can be found here and contains several app startup companies from across the country and across the globe.

" It doesn't surprise me at all that Chadder was named the number one app on this list. I know security and privacy. Chadder is the only app I personally trust for messaging"- John McAffee founder McAfee Anti-Virus and Future Tense Central. McAfee has been a big supporter of the Chadder platform.

Created in 2014, by serial entrepreneur Lexi Sprague, the app picks up where other "private" messaging apps have failed. Sprague, the daughter of blockchain and privacy pioneer Steven Sprague, has grown up knowing in recent day there had to be a better way to protect those using a messaging app. "It's not necessarily about anonymizing it's about letting people control their privacy" Lexi said.

"It's great to get recognized anywhere, especially in Silicon Valley" Sprague added.
