

Keezel Device

The keezel device is a portable personal WiFi solution powered by VPN technology. It uses other WiFi for its internet connection and provides a separate secure WiFi hotspot for the owner. Keezel helps everyone enjoy their online freedom. Online freedom means protecting your privacy and security and at the same time enjoying a free and open internet.

Keezel has only one button. You can turn it on and the body of the device will glow to indicate the status of the connection.

Product features:

- Keezel has two WiFi connections, so it functions as a bridge between your devices and the internet.
- Based on OpenWRT
- Control it from phone, tablet or laptop (keezel runs a small server and website which can be accessed from any device with a browser).
- Big battery (over twice your iPhone) allows it to run for many hours and can even charge your empty phone if needed.
- Can connect to wired networks (through adapter on the USB port)
- You can charge your keezel with a micro usb charger
- Works on networks with captive portals (where you have accept the terms of the coffee shop or co-working space where you're at.)

Keezel premium VPN service

- First device in the world to combine the VPN networks of our partners into a 'network-of-networks'.
- Keezel can select the best available server in your country of choice.
- The keezel company doesn't know what you do online, since all data will be handled by our VPN partners. Our partners do not know the identity of our customers and only know our customers as a regularly refreshed keezel-id.
- With the keezel VPN service you can select servers from our partners all over the world, thereby accessing the internet as if you are in that country.
- With the keezel VPN service you are using internet through an encrypted tunnel making it much safer and more private to use internet on WiFi locations such as coffee shops, hotels, airports, bars, at work and even at home.

Pricing

- During the Indiegogo campaign, backers will receive a keezel starting at $79.
- For $99 backers will receive a keezel with a year premium VPN service.
- After the year, the keezel premium VPN service will cost $5 per month.

- Basic VPN service (limited speed, limited locations, useful for secure browsing, not for watching streaming content) will be free.

Why keezel?

- Keezel is the only VPN solution that works on all your WiFi devices.
- Keezel is the largest VPN provider by combining the networks of its partners.
- Keezel separates customer details from data usage. We don't know what you do and our partners don't know who you are.
- You connect keezel once to a new WiFi network (like in a hotel) and all your devices will have internet. You don't need extra hotel vouchers / details to connect each separate device.
- Easy to use. Keezel is very simple and doesn't require tech skills.
- Keezel doesn't require you to have administrator rights to your computer.
