

The Vista Group of Companies Launches New Website

Vista Hospitality announces the launch of its new Property Management website: vistapropertymanagement.com. With the combined strength of a leading hospitality management company www.vistapropertymanagement.com and successful property management firm, Vista is now marketing directly to clients through this new standalone website.

While the Vista Group of Companies corporate site can still be found at www.vistahospitality.com the new site is focused specifically on the property management, hospitality management and hospitality consulting services. "With the tremendous success we've seen in property and hotel/resort management, we needed a specific website focused on these services to showcase our capabilities and resources. Property management is a cornerstone of our growth strategy and this new site will be central to our future marketing and communication efforts." According to Ally Visram, COO of the Vista Group of Companies.

Amin Visram, CEO of the Vista Group of Companies added "As a successful hotel owner and leading hotel management group, Vista has assisted many clients with property management, hospitality management consulting and resort management services. We look forward to expanding these services through our new site to clients in need of property and hospitality management services."
