

Recognized by His Clients, Sean Young of New American Funding Has Been Awarded for His Skills in the Mortgage Industry

Only 7% of mortgage professionals in the Denver area were named Five Star Mortgage Professionals in the September issue of 5280 magazine. This is the second year in a row that Sean has been named!

“I am honored to receive the Five Star Mortgage Professional award for the second year in a row,” Sean says. “I love what I do, and I truly appreciate all of my amazing clients who have trusted me over the last 19 years to help them with all of their home loan needs.”

One of his clients has high praise for him:

“Sean helped me purchase my first home. He answered questions for over two hours on our first call, and it was 7 months before I was ready to purchase! Throughout the following 7 months, he was helpful and responsive whenever I had any questions. Once it was time to actually buy the house, he continued to keep in touch and update me as we progressed through the purchase process. All in all, Sean turned out to be the perfect loan officer for me.” — Zillow reviewer

And here is a little bit about Sean from Sean himself:

Whether your goal is to purchase your dream home, refinance an existing loan, or consolidate debt, I can provide you with the expertise, professionalism, and customer service that will ensure that your transaction goes smoothly.

My team and I believe in taking the time to understand your financial goals. We then cut through the confusion and present you with relevant information so you can make informed choices.

It is our job to be the experts. It is your expectation to receive great advice and service. We want you to be confident that anyone you refer to us will get the same great advice and service.

I have great relationships with experienced financial planners, Realtors, CPAs and insurance consultants. Please feel free to ask, and I can get you in touch with one of my strategic partners.
