

Driven to Help Your Succeed

CfPIE Training Advisors work with potential classroom course attendees, business executives, and individuals responsible for on-site training in various capacities. They are dedicated to helping you get the answers they need so you or your team can most effectively utilize technical training in your organization.

How We Help

Defining a Learning Path

What internal goals are you trying to accomplish? We can direct you to the best courses based on your needs so that you don't waste time and money.

Understanding Certification Opportunities

Certification is important to individual and company growth. We can help you understand the benefits of certification—and how to convince your superiors to buy into the value.

Take Advantage of Cost-Saving Opportunities

We offer various discounts, including Early Bird and Multiple Attendee. There are also discounts through our partners. We can point you in the right direction.
