

“Joie de Vivre”

A Photography Exhibit by
Bert O. Johnson

San Jose State University
MLK Library
San Jose, CA
Nov. 4-Dec. 31, 2015

Find joy in every aspect of life, no matter how mundane—that’s the philosophy of Bert O. Johnson. He celebrates the beauty and joy in everyday life in this stunning exhibit. Through his photographic genius, he hopes to inspire you, the viewer, to slow down and appreciate the beauty and pleasures that surround us.

Johnson loves motorcycles (especially Harleys), architecture, music and sports. He loves to travel and never leaves home without his Nikon D3100 or Nikon D3S. As he says, “It is the photographer’s job to capture the images that make up life, one instant in time after another.”

For more of Bert O. Johnson’s work, please see: www.oneinstantintime.com, or email him at bertjohnson144@yahoo.com.

