TruShield Now Offers Compromise Assessment Services To The General Public

*TruShield's New Compromise Assessment Service Helps Companies Discover
The Unknown Information Security Breaches In Their Networks*

Dulles, VA (November 19th, 2015): TruShield Security Solutions, Inc. is proud to announce its latest service offering, Compromise Assessments. Compromise assessments go a step above traditional risk assessments. While vulnerability assessments and penetration tests reveal weaknesses, TruShield's unique Compromise Assessment Methodology evaluates client networks to determine if breaches have occurred, and how far compromised the network is.

"Over 93% of our new clients came to us unaware they had been breached" says TruShield Principal and Chief Security Architect, Paul Caiazzo. "With great confidence, we can say that chances are good we will discover a hidden breach on your networks."

The need for such services arose not only after an analysis of new TruShield clients revealed undiscovered breaches, but also after market research showed that most organizations aren't able to detect breaches for an average of 210 days, with four out of five companies only becoming aware of a network breach when notified by law enforcement.

TruShield's years of expertise in multiple industries along with a customer-focused approach to security provides the following key benefits for its Compromise Assessments clients:

- Clients are provided with a complete analysis of their network including endpoint scans, process analysis, firewall configuration deep dive, network traffic analysis, malware detection, industry threat analysis, and registry key and executable analysis.
- Expertise on the most up-to-date threats, gathered from our Global Threat Intelligence
- An in-depth look at the areas of your network that are compromised, including a thorough analysis of the nature of the compromise.
- A follow-up consultation session where the compromises are reviewed and recommendations are made to mitigate existing network threats.
