The Leading Cloud Computing Event for Business Technology Leaders

Co-located with Cloud Computing China Congress

Your Current And Future Customers Is Here

Cloud Unlimited Customer First

The Cloud Computing Customer Conference (CCCC 2016) is specially designed for cloud computing customers from various industries to explore critical cloud computing issues, connect with other executives in various stages of cloud computing projects and learn about the latest cloud computing solutions. CCCC is the only place where cloud computing end users and cloud computing vendors can connect to accelerate cloud computing successful adoption. The event will allow attendees to build relationships with IT executive peers, attend end user educational sessions and network in an intimate and focused environment. Attendees are encouraged to share ideas, explore technology solutions and learn about the latest cloud computing topics and trends.

Cloud computing has transformed from an ambitious concept into a mainstream tool in recent years. As CIO/CTOs need to operate a lightweight, leaner and more efficient IT shop, cloud based applications and services have been well received by cloud computing customers working to support the highly demanding and dramatically changing enterprise. However, cloud computing still face challenges.

As an IT leader, now is the time to produce real business value for your organization. CCCC will help C-level executives better understand the true capabilities of cloud computing and the transformational opportunities it can bring. Through a unique blend of focused CIO/CTO think tanks, executive visions panel discussions, analyst Q&As, visionary keynote presentations and networking breaks, technology executives will share insight and gain critical takeaways. CCCC agenda offers a balanced schedule that will maximize your time and efforts, providing you with ideas and strategies truly capable of changing business practices.

What Makes CCCC Different

All Things Cloud CCCC is the industry's most significant industry event focused on today's cloud economy. CCCC offers the most comprehensive coverage of cloud-related topics, including cloud infrastructure, security & governance, cloud data center, virtualisation technologies, software defined networks, industry applications, and more.

Technology + Business + Customer CCCC is the premier business technology event for cloud professionals. Meanwhile you can benefit from industry players hard-won experiences. Each year the percentage of attendees from the "business side/customer" increases. They join their colleagues from IT to collaborate and learn more about how to provide cloud-centric solutions to satisfy their business strategies.

Guaranteed Qualified Audience CCCC is specially designed for IT decision makers, managers, and cloud practitioners, who are shaping the future of the cloud. Audience promotion will target industry and enterprise decision makers. All registration applications are screened by CCCC staff to ensure they come from the appropriate demographics.

Collaborative Buying Process CCCC attracts powerful and complementary audiences. The event represents the industry's most senior executive decision-makers – they have budget authority and seek information on a range of technology solutions. Event sponsorship offers unique access to greater levels of executives across all stages of the buying and implementation cycles resulting in a opportunity to influence the collaborative buying process.

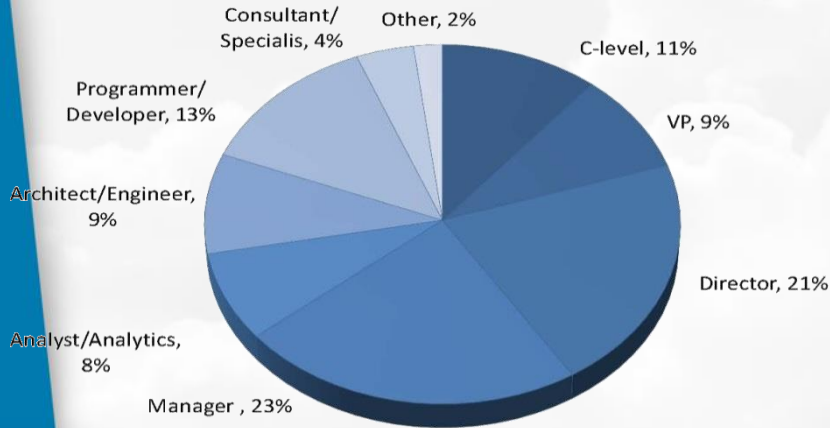

Unparalleled Value and ROI CCCC allows your focus to be on your appointments with target audience and we take care of all details. We are never surprised that our delegates repeatedly tell us that CCCC events offer the best return on investment of their entire marketing spend. You will strengthen your business relationships with your current and future clients at CCCC.
