For Immediate Release (February 29, 2016 (Cleveland, OH)):

For three decades, the insurance subrogation and defense attorneys at Keis George LLP have honed their focus and skills on fighting to recover losses and defend insureds who have suffered losses in the wake of accidents involving auto and property claims. Our attorneys are committed to providing clients with comprehensive legal services at every stage of a case and working diligently to win jury verdicts and reach favorable settlements and judgments.

To deliver maximum results, Keis George LLP is committed to fostering the professional development and growth of our team of skilled attorneys. The firm recently recognized the accomplishments and contributions of attorneys Brad Krapfl and Shaun E. Young, who were both promoted to partner.

Applauded for his many accomplishments in the legal practice areas of insurance subrogation and insurance defense litigation, Brad Krapfl has been a valued member of the Keis George LLP team for eight years and manages the firm's Chicago office. Renowned for his ability to uncover and cultivate information that often plays a critical role in the success of a case, attorney Krapfl has participated in many jury trials and hundreds of arbitrations. A member of the National Association of Subrogation Professionals, he is also a baseball fan and avid golfer.

Shaun E. Young has been with Keis George LLP's Cleveland office for 10 years. During attorney Young's tenure with the firm, he has built an impressive reputation for his strong devotion to serving clients needs and helping them overcome the many challenges they face after an accident. Attorney Young focuses his practice on insurance subrogation, insurance defense litigation and large loss fire claims. In addition to being a member of the National Association of Subrogation Professionals, he is active in the East Palestine Community Foundation and Lakewood/Rocky River Rotary Club and also volunteers as a youth sports coach. ###
