

MODERN MAN

JEFFREY MOORE

FOUNDER AND CEO, NUTRIPY

After 35 years and winning over 180 awards in healthcare advertising, Jeffrey Moore quit. He has left healthcare to change your life, from the inside out.

"I call what I used to do ill care now. Health care is optimizing lives. And the most fundamental way to optimize is to put the right things in your body no matter how busy, stressed or disinterested in food you may be," he says. So Jeff and his team take the life you are living now and fuel it properly. It's called lifestyle nutrition and nutripy.com was created to get everyone started with the amazing benefits of feeling healthy and energized.

Nutripy.com showcases assessments that assure you are getting the right pharmaceutical grade supplements, the tastiest good-for-you recipes and all of the support for your daily activities that you could ever need.

When Jeff isn't working on his passion of good nutrition for all, you can find him in the gym, in the ocean or on the slopes.

"Eat better. Feel better. Be a better person for it."
