

Solar Giveaway: #RapForSolar

WHO

SolTerra is based in Seattle and has been designing and installing solar energy systems, living walls and green roofs since 2008. In addition, we design and build sustainable, mixed-use, LEED Platinum apartments in the Pacific Northwest. We hope to prove that sustainable living is within reach for everyone. Our mission is to improve lives by connecting people to nature, creating better communities, and making a positive impact on the earth.

WHAT

Many people and organizations want to offset their carbon emissions by going solar. SolTerra wants to make solar available for everyone, so our company is donating a 24-panel solar energy system (~6 KW) to a deserving community member.

If you know of a homeowner or a non-profit organization who want to offset their electricity bill and reduce their carbon footprint, be sure to tell them about this giveaway.

WHERE

Anyone owning a home or operating a non-profit in King, Pierce and Snohomish counties is eligible for this free solar installation offer. Selection will be dependent upon site suitability for solar installation.

WHEN

Deadline for submission is Tuesday, May 31st.

WHY

SolTerra is headquartered in the Pacific Northwest, and the future of our environment and our communities are important to us.

HOW

To apply, perform a brief, original "rap" about why you want solar (1:00 or less). Send your video and your name, organization and address to rapforsolar@solterra.com. We'll select the finalists by June 3rd – then it will be opened up to a social media poll. We will install the winner's new solar energy system this summer! Please make sure you send your submissions by Tuesday, May 31st.
