Powering smart business transformations

IT • Service Management • Smart Services

Volteo is a global leader in smart business transformation.

We deliver simple, innovative business solutions that enable companies to work smarter—smarter in the office to the data-center all the way to the cloud.

We go beyond the traditional delivery model to empower our customers with new tools to energize their business.

Helping brands and companies to realize value beyond IT

The Internet of Things, the cloud, mobile—big data and the digitizing of the physical world is here. Business customers and end users are demanding more. Services are the future of the business world. Companies need to embrace this new digital age to stay technologically relevant. Companies must work smarter.

Volteo delivers expertise in IT and Service Management for every department in the enterprise, and IoT Smart Services for today's digitally connected world.

Our team is made up of senior technologists who can think big, connect the dots, focus on business outcomes and tie IT to business results. We have a strong track record with proven results for small to Fortune 500 companies and brands.

Your successes are our successes

We have played the customer role and understand your issues and pain points. We provide simple smart services that our customers can easily implement and manage. We focus on your success. We make you look good.

"Volteo not only provided world class customer service, but they also delivered a best practice solution, ensuring our internal resources had the knowledge and confidence to maintain and grow the platform exponentially without getting caught in the trap of over-customization."

Heather Hagensieker, ServiceNow® Development
