

ROCKIN' ROAD GRILL

Eddie Berner may be most well known as the former lead guitarist of the popular 80's rock band "A Flock of Seagulls," but music is by no means his only passion- in fact, he's spent most of his off-stage life in the kitchen. After serving as an executive chef in high-profile restaurants in Las Vegas, Palm Springs, Los Angeles, Orlando, New Jersey and elsewhere across the country for the past 30+ years, Eddie is taking his love of food, sports, entertainment and adventure to a whole new level on "Rockin' Road Grill".

Featured on The Comcast Network and Comcast SportsNet, "Rockin' Road Grill" follows Eddie as he tours around the country in his Rockin' Road Grill Bus, cooking his guests' favorite meals, and making new friends. Reaching an audience of 5 million Comcast subscribers in the Mid-Atlantic and Greater Philadelphia Metro DMA's, "Rockin' Road Grill" appeals to a broad audience. Each episode innovatively melds Eddie's twin passions of music and food through a variety of celebrity guests from the worlds of music and sports. Also featured in every episode are musical performances by Eddie and other well-known artists, plenty of laughs, and of course, a brand new recipe! So far, guests have included sports legends like ice hockey's Hall of Famer and 2-time Stanley Cup-winning goalie, Bernie Parent, current Assistant Captain of the NHL Philadelphia Flyers Wayne Simmonds, the free-wheeling "Long John" Daly from the world of professional golf, and baseball Hall-of-Famer Andre Dawson, to name a few. Eddie's warm, infectious energy makes him an engaging, entertaining and relatable host—and when combined with his featured musical performances, Eddie is truly the heart and soul of "Rockin' Road Grill".

Left: Eddie serving up a tasty salad aboard the Rockin' Road Grill Bus. Right: Eddie stands beside the Rockin' Road Grill Bus and plays his guitar inside the bus (Below Right) Blackwood Signature Sauces Featured on the show.

KEYSTONE PICTURES

